

FOREIGN LANGUAGE EDUCATION (K-12) Five-Year Teacher Education Program

Revised August, 2016 -- For students earning a bachelor's degree in May, 2018 or later

Students who complete this program successfully will receive an Ed.M. in Foreign Language Education from the GSE as well as a recommendation to the New Jersey Department of Education for a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in the target language.

- I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The five-year teacher education program in foreign language education (K-12) leads to a bachelor's degree, a master's degree, and initial teacher certification. Rutgers undergraduates do preliminary coursework and field placements as assigned during the sophomore and junior years, are admitted to the program during the spring semester of the junior year, and enter the professional education sequence in the summer between junior and senior years. Students then qualify to have their bachelor's degree awarded by the undergraduate liberal arts college.

Students continue with the professional sequence the summer after graduation. They return in the fall to complete a student-teaching internship with related coursework and continue with full-time graduate study, including a field-based research project, in the spring. The Ed.M. degree is conferred upon the completion of all five-year program requirements.

After the master's degree is awarded, the GSE will make a recommendation to the New Jersey State Department of Education on behalf of the student to receive a CEAS as a teacher.
